Classes Select Student Council Representatives

Student representatives of the Student Association for the 1958-59 school year are Benny Stephens, Gayle Claunch, Carole Thomas, Bob Silvey and Kirsten Christensen, according to Bill Floyd, president of this year's council.

The male representative for the 1958-59 junior class will be elected in the fall of 1958.

To Represent Seniors

Stephens, a speech major from Celina, Tenn., will represent the senior class next year. A graduate of Celina High School, Stephens was awarded honors in agriculture, public speaking and was president of the high school FFA.

At Harding, he is Frater Sodalities president, was sophomore class favorite and is junior class president.

Miss Claunch, elementary education major from Dayton, Ohio, will also represent the senior class next year. She is a graduate of Fairview High School in Dayton. While at Harding she is a member of the FTA, Tri Kappa social club and Bijuku Club.

Juniors

Representing the junior class for next year will be Miss Carole Thomas, Corning, Ark. A graduate of Corning High School she won awards in home economics, was voted Miss CHS, elected Football Queen, FTA Sweetheart, Who's Who and class favorite.

At Harding she is a member of the Kappa Phi social club, home economics club, Women's Recreational Association, Dactylogy club and a Big Sister.

Sophomores

Silvey, chemistry and math major from Rome, Italy, (his father is an army officer) will represent the sophomore class of 1958-59. He is a graduate of Grand Island High School, Grand Island, Neb. In high school he was a National Merit Scholar finalist and graduated valedictorian.

At Harding he is a member of the A Cappella Chorus, participates in intramural sports, science club and Sub T-16 social club.

Miss Christensen, freshman from Hitchcock, S. D., will represent the sophomore class next year. She is a graduate of Hitchcock High School where she was chosen best girl athlete, received a typing award and edited the year book.

At Harding she is a member of the Modern Language Club, Art Club, WRA and Kappa Phi social club.

Secretaries Plan Special Dinner For Bosses' Night

It will be strictly "Bosses' Night" Monday, May 13, when thirty-three Harding Business Women treat their bosses to dinner at the Rendezvous Canteen at 6:30 p.m.

"The purpose of 'Bosses' Night' is to acquaint our bosses with the club and its activities," stated Miss Marguerite O'Banion, secretary to the President.

J. C. Moore will be the principal speaker for the dinner. Morgan Richardson, Harding's famed tenor, will provide entertainment for the evening. He will be accompanied on the piano by Miss Ruth Simmons.

An important feature of the program will be the installment of newly elected officers for 1958-59 by Mrs. Mary Ann Harris, this year's president. Officers for next year include: Mrs. Eral Tucker, president; Mrs. Corinne Hart, vice president; Miss Edwina Pace, secretary; Miss Pat Young, treasurer; Miss Marguerite O'Banion, parliamentarian; and Miss Ester Pulley, reporter.

Regina Clary, Don Helms To Head 1958-59 Bison Staff

Miss Regina Clary

Miss Regina Clary and Don Helms will serve next year as the 1958-59 editor and business manager of the Bison.

Miss Clary is a transfer from Freed-Hardeman College, where she was a member of the Sigma Rho Society for two years. She is a dramatic club, was reporter for also participated in the Thespians, the commercial club and captain of the cheerleading squad.

In 1956 she was a member of the Homecoming Court Royalty. Before coming to Harding, she served as assistant editor and then editor of the Sky Rocket, Freed-Hardeman school paper.

At Harding she has been a

member of the pep club, May Court attendant and reporter for the Regina social club. She has also served on the Bison staff and won first place in feature writing at the ACPA contest.

Helms, also a junior, from Tuckerman, Ark., is majoring in accounting. He has worked with the Bison staff since coming to Harding as a freshman. He served as assistant business manager the spring semester of 1958.

He is now vice-president of the Tri Sigma Delta social club and a member of the accounting club.

The new editor and business manager will publish the last issue of the Bison this year.

Rainey Receives Fellowship Grant

Gene Rainey

Gene E. Rainey, senior public affairs major at Harding College, is one of 1,080 students to receive a one-year fellowship from the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

The program, which this year selected recipients from 6,000 nominees, enables students who plan to enter college and university teaching to complete a year's work on advanced degrees. Final selections are made by a national committee, composed of eight graduate school deans and two liberal arts professors.

Awards are $1,400 plus tuition, with a total value of $2,700,000 this year. The fellowships are made possible by the Ford Foundation, which granted $24,500,000 to the program a year ago.

Rainey, who was nominated by Dean L. C. Sears, will work on his MA in International Relations at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Tufts University, Medford, Mass., following service in the United States Army.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Rainey, Pinehurst, Tex., Rainey received the BA degree from George Washington University in 1957 and is presently working toward the BS from Harding. He holds a teaching assistantship in the social science department.

U. of Houston To Give Twelve $500 Scholarships

Applications are being accepted now for twelve scholarships of $500 each, which will be awarded to students from eleven states in the South and Southwest who plan to enroll in the College of Optometry at the University of Houston.

The optometric scholarships are for students entering their first year in the College of Optometry in the 1958-59 school year.

These scholarships are a part of the Better Vision Program instituted by the University of Houston to meet the growing demands for professionally trained optometrists in the South and Southwest. The University of Houston is one of two schools in this area that offers degrees in optometry.

The eleven states participating in the Better Vision Program include Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, and Texas.

Optometrists, optometric laboratories and suppliers, and ophthalmic manufacturers throughout these states have provided the Better Vision Scholarships to be awarded to at least one applicant from each participating state, plus one scholarship designated for a woman student.

Qualifications necessary for admission to the College of Optometry are completion of two years general college, including one year's work in chemistry, physics and zoology.

Conditional admission, however, is sometimes granted to students who have not completed all the requirements before being admitted to the College of Optometry.

The Better Vision Scholarships will be awarded to students on the basis of admission to the College, financial need and scholastic ability. A "C" average or better is the required grade average for scholarship application.

Applications should be sent to the Dean, College of Optometry, University of Houston, Houston 4, Tex.

Ritchie to Speak At Academy Baccalaureate

Baccalaureate services for the academy will be held Sunday, May 18 at 3:30 p.m. in the college auditorium.

The academy chorus under the direction of Eddie Baggett will sing the processional, "A Joyful Song." After the invocation by Neil Cope, Don Berryhill will direct the audience in singing "How Shall the Young Secure Their Hearts?" The chorus will sing "Jesus, I Will Ponder Now," followed by a prayer led by Robert Street.

Andy T. Ritchie will be the speaker for the occasion, and following his address the chorus will sing "My God and I". M. E. Berryhill will lead the benediction. The recessional, "Ancient of Days," will be sung by the chorus.

The following Saturday, May 24 has been chosen for the graduation exercises, which will also be held in the college auditorium at 9:25 a.m.

The processional, sung by the academy chorus, will be "Land of Hope and Glory." Following the invocation by J. E. Berryhill, Dr. George S. Benson will give a few opening remarks to the graduating class. The audience will be directed in singing "Be With Me, Lord," by Jim Howard and then the chorus will sing "Rejoice, My Soul."

Hugh M. Groover has been chosen as the speaker for this occasion, and following his address, Gordon Teel will lead the audience in prayer.

After the diplomas have been presented by Dr. George S. Benson, Perry S. Mason will present the awards. "The Lord Bless You" will be sung by the chorus before the benediction by G. E. Baggett, following which will be the recessional, "Lead On, O King Eternal" sung by the chorus.

Silvey to Visit Brussels Fair

Bob Silvey

Bob Silvey, freshman merit scholarship student, will leave Harding May 27 and fly to Rome where he will join his father and mother, Lt. Col. and Mrs. R. M. Silvey, and his three brothers and two sisters.

Bob plans to spend most of his time in Italy, but will have the opportunity of visiting the British Isles, France, and Germany. One of the side trips will include a Christian lectureship in Frankfurt.

Outstanding on the agenda is a trip to Brussels where the Silvey family will enjoy the World's Fair.

Next fall, after touring Europe, Bob will return to Harding and resume his studies.

VAYA con Dios, Bob.

'Some Enchanted Evening' To Be Presented May 9

Miss Helen Hendrix, Tom Wofford and Miss Peachy Hightower review directions during rehearsal.

"Some Enchanted Evening," the fourth annual talent show, will be presented Friday, May 9, at 7:30 p.m., co-directors, Peachy Hightower and Helen Hendrix, announce.

For the first time, the program will be divided into four sections, each with its own master of ceremonies and set. "These sets are going to be the most fabulous ever to appear on the Harding campus," says Miss Hendrix. Miss Hightower adds, "The classical set is very stylized; the popular is modernized; the western is sentimentalized; and the novelty is junglized."

Don Humphrey will be master of ceremonies for the classical division. Talent in this section includes Synette Hubbard, "Flying Leaves," a piano solo; Kenneth Davis, Jr., tenor solo; Linda Hartman, accompanied by Mary Redwine, violin solo; Dorothy Anderson, soprano solo; Ann Bobo, "Toccatta," a piano solo.

Popular section master of ceremonies is to be Ron Rea. Performers are LaVonne Thompson, "Queen of Hearts March"; Peachy Hightower, Marilyn Davis, Charlene Harris, "Lolli Pop"; Bobby Bullard, "That's the Way Patricia Walks," his own composition; Larry Bills, "Ode on the Trials of Comesticity"; Sue Snow, "Saint Louis Blues"; Jimmy Hightower, Wally Colson, Alec Lynds, "I Wanna Play House With You"; and "Fatal Quest," a one-act play.

Weldon Hendrix will be master of ceremonies for the western quarter of the program. Artists are to be Howard Claude, "Pass the Biscuits"; Gordon Shutt, his own composition, "Project X"; Art Voyles, "Wagon Wheels"; Chorale Quintet, "Cool Water"; Clarence Pierce, "Hoe-Down"; Women's Ensemble, "Don't Fence Me In"; Wally Colson, Alec Lynds, Jimmy Hightower, and original guitar trio; Bob Sullins, "Tumbling Tumble Weeds."

In the novelty section, Duane McCampbell is to be master of ceremonies. Talent includes Gerald Burkett, "Around the World in Eighty Days"; the Galaxy club, "Po' Oi' Laz'rus"; John Lindsey, a medley; Mohican Quarter, "Poinciana"; Loreta Huffard, Delia Beth Stephenson, Sandra Disch, "Abba Dabba Honeymoon"; Darlene Darling, "Some Enchanted Evening."

J. C. Moore will introduce each division.

Ed Snow will be in charge of lighting for the production. Tom Wofford is stage manager.

NOTICE

Bound volumes of the 1957-58 Bison will be on sale in the Student Center within the next two weeks. Only 100 copies will be bound. Since there are approximately 1000 students on campus, those who speak first will naturally receive the bound volumes.

Price will be $1.00 per volume. A desk will be set up in the lobby of the Student Center.

Ouachita Presents 'Antigone' Here Saturday Night

"Antigone," a tragedy by the Greek playwright, Sophocles, will be presented by Ouachita College in the large auditorium, Saturday, May 10.

Polynices, son of the ill-starred Oedipus, former king of Thebes, who is jealous of his brother, Eteocles, turns to the Argive enemy and matches against Thebes. The Argive army flees in retreat when Polynices and Eteocles kill one another. Creon, the present king and brother-in-law of Oedipus, issues an edict forbidding the burial of Polynices, but commanding public honors and burial for Eteocles.

But their sister, Antigone, believing she must obey the eternal laws of right and wrong buries Polynices, defying Creon at the sacrifice of her life. She is caught and condemned to be buried alive in a rock-hewn chamber, but Haemon, Creon's son and Antigone's betrothed, threatens to die with her. Creon repents after being warned by the blind seer Teiresias, but he is too late—Antigone has hung herself and Haemon has died by his own hand. He returns to the palace to find that the queen has killed herself upon learning of Haemon's death.

The story will be familiar to most of the humanities students, but should provide a worthwhile evening of entertainment for all. Further announcement will be made regarding the time of performance.

Cabot Editor to Speak At Bison Banquet

When Bison staff members walk into Anderson's Grill at 7:30 May 10, they will find a unique setting for their annual banquet. Instead of place cards, each person will have his name set in a lead slug, ready to go to press, and the programs will always hold memories of the year's work on the Bison.

To give atmosphere to the meal, organ music will be played, and afterwards Cone Magie, editor of the Cabot Star-Herald, will speak. Bob Silvey will present "The Tell-Tale Heart" to the approximately 60 guests, and Editor Tony Phippen will award the Bison letters.

A certain air of secrecy surrounds the program, but Editor Phippen promises, "I think they'll really enjoy the entertainment."

EDITOR BOWS OUT

With this issue of the Bison the present editor must step out of office and give the newly selected editor an opportunity to publish the last issue.

Before we bow out, however, it is appropriate that we express appreciation to the many many people who made the task a little easier this year and those who suffered through the mistakes of the editor with patience.

First, we are deeply indebted to all the members of the Bison staff who worked so hard each week. Of course there were times when some of us shirked our duties and failed to produce on time, but as a whole, we had a wonderful staff.

We especially thank those who carried on the work of the editor when he had to be out of town on Monday. Assistant editor Jim Shurbet was worth his weight in gold.

Alfred Couch, business manager, proved that he could make the Bison pay for itself. We appreciate the work he did in soliciting the advertising copy and keeping a good set of books.

Don Rusk and Garrett Timmerman have spent many sleepless nights in order to keep you sports fans happy. They deserve some praise for a job well done.

To professors Neil B. Cope and Thomas Loney we express our thanks for serving as our faculty sponsors. Without these men there may have been no Bison. Because of their wise guidance the Bison won the General Excellence award this year in state competition.

Mr. Simmons, Mary Ann Harris and the public relations staff have saved the day many times. We thank them for their fine cooperation and keen interest in the student paper.

Finally, we must recognize the men who must have a lot of patience. The men at the Harding College Press have endured and helped correct the many mistakes of the editor each week. Herman West, manager of the press has been very understand and reasonable. Bill Reed and Bill Bates have spent many extra hours setting Bison copy that should have been turned in the day before. They deserve recognition, and we say thanks for their patience.

We have never heard Bob Brown complain once since we started publishing the paper this year. Bob makes the cuts for all the pictures which appear in the Bison. We especially thank him for the fine cuts he makes and his cheerful attitude toward the Bison.

To every social club, mission clubs and departments at Harding we express our gratitude. Your cooperation helped us to supply local news to the students and faculty.

To the advertisers in town we say thanks. Naturally we could not have had a self-supporting publication without your help. Also the students obtained much news each week by simply reading the advertisements. We are sure that if they did not have advertisements to read, they would soon fail to buy as much in town.

To the student body I especially thank you. Your attitude has been great this year concerning the Bison.

We were proud to serve you.

Moore's Music Makers Didn't Do Da Best At Acting Appearance

Since this is the last official time for the present editor to publish the BISON, the following column by "Mr. Petty" is being printed exactly as it was turned in to the editor. No corrections have been made. All opinions are strictly his own and the editor does not share them.

Ruggiero Leoncavallo, despite the fact that practically all of his works have fallen into comparative obscurity, has achieved lasting fame in the world-at-large and of music, with the single operatic work, "I Pagliacci" which was produced last Friday evening through the combined auspicious of the Harding Colleges departments of speech and music.

"I Pagliacci" is a powerful and realistic pageant of human emotions, but Leoncavallo placed the emotions of love, despair, suspicion and jealousy in the frivolous character and under the colorful white, red and blue paint of the clown; because of this placement the entire proceeding, when first read, seen or heard appears quite trite and unimportant.

However, on each new acquaintance with the work, there is a realization that the discovery of the emotions concealed under the paint of the mimes are the same emotions that under one-paint-costume-or-another all of Creation conceals.

Dr. Erle T. Moore's selections to fill the principal roles in the opera appeared at first to be one of the more outstanding casts in recent opera history at Harding, but after the curtain fell on the production Friday evening it was apparent that the members of the cast, save one—Mr. Morgan Richardson, had not bothered to read the entire of the libretto nor had they seemingly found it important to understand in any way the personalities they were attempting to represent. However, the fault should not rest completely with Miss Darlene Darling and Mistrs Bob Scott, Jerry Martin. and Bob Sullins; for Dr. Moore and Mr. Glen Wiley, unlike the heads of the Metropolitan and other outstanding opera companys across the country, have not found it advantageous to proportion the voices and the music with convincing character interpretation and staging.

The fault, however, does not lie with only one of the directors, it is rather a combined effort, and for opera to find a respected place in the Harding Lyceum Series this effort will have to be corrected.

Pictoraly the fault lay in the efforts of the stage director, Mr. Glen Wiley, whose stage pictures Friday evening were uninteresting and limp in Leoncavallo's plot, against Miss Helen Hendrix's effectual set and under the most effective of Mr. Ed Snow's recent light designs.

As musical director of the effort Dr. Moore guided the principals and chorus, after a somewhat weak and lifeless first act (with the exception of Mr. Morgan Richardson's magnificent and deeply moving sympathetic interpretation of the aira, "Vesti la giubba"), on to the closing lines of the tragedy: "The comedy is ended," that left the audience demanding Miss Darlene Darling and Mr. Richardson.

But despite a wonderul audience and "critical" reception for an over all smooth and occissionally shimmerring performance it was apparant that the musical director had placed almost complete emphasis on "note-attainment" and practically none on understanding.

The emphasis was not however, without merit, for Miss Darling and Mr. Bob Sullins were at their best musically individually and as a beautifully blended team. Their musical roles of Nedda and Silvio can be compared with none of their efforts over the last three years.

The star of the show and the individual towering over all others was Mr. Richardson as Canio. When it comes to attempting to describe or critically evluate the magnitude of this distinctive performed interperation Petty can add nothing to that whic hwas seen and heard.

The production was greatly weakened by the fact that it was staged without the enhancing services of an orchestra. This weakness was pointed up by the use of orchestral recordings of the prelude and the intermezzo. However, this is not to carry the force that Miss Mary Redwine did not fulfill her role as piano accompanist copiously.

Harding needs to be awakened more to culture, as it were—the arts, and taught to accept it on its basis. Friday evenings offering on the boards was occasionally a moving adequate step toward this goal.

Thought: To think for one self is one of the finest things a person can attempt to do for himself.

MR. PETTY

Two Harding Students Plan Mission Work

"Lean not upon thy own understanding, but trust in God," has been our motto in preparing to leave for Africa in January, 1959. Luella Cheney and I will be married this summer and will leave New York City sometime in January for Namwianga Mission, Northern Rhodesia, Africa.

We hope to ship out with Dale Buckley and his wife and anothe couple. We don't understand where all the support will come from, nor how much work it will take to gather the necessary funds, but we have decided to lean upon God and trust in His way and will.

We will both be teaching in the schools on the mission and I will hope to assist in some village preaching as we get a grasp of the language. We presently plan to occupy the house left by Sister Rowe when she came to Harding Academy to teach this year.

Brother Merritt has been behind us and is assisting in the support and we feel that better assistance could not be found anywhere. Sister Rowe recently gave us a Steamer trunk to carry with us on board ship, so we feel that we have made a good start. We still lack the matter of $250 a month support and $2000 for travel to Africa. We firmly trust that God will bring this needed support our way.

Leon Clymore

Miss Luella Cheney

I have had experience gathering support before, since I spent a year in Canada preaching and was supported by several churches then. The task before us is great so please don't discourage us — we can always get that. If you or your home church can help our effort in any way, please contact us. As you kneel to pray at evening, please include two young people who want so very much to go to Africa in January. Thank you

Far and Near

By DON HUMPHREY

Purpose of This Column

I haven't especially tried to always have this column filled with words on one specific thought. I have tried at times to make it a conglomeration of different thoughts, if that is good, because that is what I wanted it to be. It has been called to my attention that at times it seems like a bulletin material column, but so what, I am trying to put thoughts out and I don't claim originality of all of my material.

Father's Advice

It seems to me that the following poem has an excellent point which might help us all.

My dad and I, long years ago, were walking down the street,
When suddenly a little dog came yelping 'round my feet.
He snapped and snarled so viciously — that angry little pup.
Appeared to me as though he thought he could eat us up.
I turned and threw some stones at him, which always missed the mark,
But when I tried to drive him off, the louder he would bark.
"Now, my son," father said to me, "Just plod along your way.
Don't turn your head for yelping dogs.
Remember what I say!
You'll notice if you pay no heed to him and hold your peace,
That little dog will soon grow tired and all his noise will cease,
But every time you stamp your foot and shout to him, 'Begone,' You'll show that he's annoying you, and keep him following on.
"It takes a dog to fight a dog! Post that about your shelf!
When canines come and snarl at you, don't be a dog yourself.
And later, when you're older grown, and petty men attack,
Don't stoop to pick up stones to throw, don't try to answer back;
Just walk right on and pay no heed to anything they say,
And very soon they'll give it up and turn and run away.
"It is a very ancient dodge these petty minds employ,
They say that gods first angry make the man whom they destroy.
And little dogs and little men who snarl behind your back
Will only snarl the louder if you answer their attack:
And they'll have done the very thing they started out to do,
If, being yellow dogs themselves, they make one out of you!"

It seems that we all tend to have a pioneering spirit, especially when young. When we don't like something we think that we have got to tear it down and build it back right. Well, a certain amount of tearing down and building back up is good, but we should watch it that we do not spend all of our time tearing down.

What we need to do, is to build things like they ought to be; then those things which are not built right will come down of themselves in time, with usually no harm done.

The Spirit of Christ

I think that often we feel like we aren't accomplishing anything worthwhile if we do not find something wrong and go crusading against it. We often mistake this for the Spirit of Christ. If you will remember however, the Spirit of Christ was one that went about doing good.

He went and told the people what was good

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

By LYNN MERRICK

Since so many comments have been made about the sack, I thought some ought to be printed and for that reason chose "What's your opinion of the sack dress?" for the question of the week. These answers were printable.

Perry Mason — "I can't think of anything bad enough to say."

Dr. Bill Williams — "That's just the way they look."

Jane Wade — "If you've got the figure it's built for it's all right."

Terry Davis — "Barrels would be more economical."

Homer Anderson — "You mean they're dresses?"

Ferra Sue Sparks — "Well — I'm really beginning to like them a little more, but I wouldn't wear one."

George Howell — "I guess — all right — my wife went down and bought one yesterday."

Carol Robertson — "Not too good!"

Noel Lemon — "I think they're sad sacks for sad sacks."

Lenora Cross — "I think some of them look silly, but who objects to looking silly?"

Danny Skipper — "I think they look better on the potatoes."

Jo Wilson — "They're cute and comfortable."

Tom Myers — "I think you ought to sew the top up."

Peggy Watson — "Some of them I get so I almost like them and some I get so I hate them. Generally, I detest them."

Roger Williams — "Horrible!"

Rip Van Winkle — "It stinks."

Marilyn Rausch — "I wouldn't be caught wearing one."

Fay Conley — "I think sacks should remain in the stores."

Tom Wofford — "I'm trying to think of something you can print."

Sue Snow — "I like them. They make a woman more feminine because she has to act that way to wear them."

Pat Smith — "Oh!"

Alice Stewart — "Bob doesn't like them."

John Milton — "Most people look like bags in sack dresses."

Nancy White — "They're very comfortable."

Kay Williams — "I don't think I'll ever be seen in one."

Charlie Bryant — "It actually reminds me of sleeping clothes."

P.S. — Bill Teague's comment in chapel seems to sum up everybody's feeling. The girls are either:

"Too obese for the chemise, or Too slack for the sack."

and to do that, they would have to quit doing that which was wrong. It was a spirit of helpfulness and not one of faultfinding.

Guardian Tactics

It seems very evident of late, that we have picked up some tactics from a paper from Lufkin, Tex. And by that, I mean that when we read or hear of something which we do not like or disagree with, we want to write them up and be as sarcastic about it as we can.

To me, that is not the Christian thing to do. Just because we disagree with someone is not a reason to write them up in the paper and be as sarcastic as possible about it. They have a right to say what their opinion is, regardless of what it is.

I deny that such article as have been written lately have been as true to the Spirit of Christ as they could have been. If you disagree with me, that is all right. This is still my opinion and I expect you to treat it as such.

A Day at Camp Tahkodah Climaxes Frater Sodalis Club Outing Plans

As is usual in Arkansas there was a strong possibility of rain on Monday the 28th, when the Fraters had their outing at Camp Tahkodah. No one seemed to mind for they were up early and on their way. Everyone soon arrived, some after missing the way a couple of times.

Activities were not long in starting. Beside the camp ran a stream and on the other side rose awe inspiring cliffs. Most couples decided to conquer these cliffs. Larry Nixon, Margaret Wolfe; David Hobby and June Young had almost reached the top when Mother Nature decided to play one of her jokes and the rains came.

No sooner had the rain stopped than a game of muddy softball was started. This continued almost all day. Nellis Williams, Carol Robertson; Ed Ritchie, Anne Kirk; Leon Clymore and Luella Cheney soon proved their ability to play this game. Bill Hogan played while Carolyn Brookshier learned to dodge wildly hit balls.

Tennis, ping pong, and basketball were also played. Boating up and down the stream between the two dams was also popular. Floyd Selvidge and Evelyn McLaury discovered that going over a dam in a boat gets one wet, or maybe even two.

Dinner came, and as if by magic everyone appeared. J. R. Bailey and Rheba Jo Berryhill were among the first there. Thanks to Dr. Joe, the Fraters' sloppy joe mixture was hot and ready to eat. Bro. Ritchie after eating five or six enjoyed a cat fish dinner from our neighbors, after which he came back for several big helpings of ice cream. Bill Hampton also had his share of the food.

That afternoon the clouds disappeared and the sun shone. Activities soon started again including falling into the stream and other non-group pursuits. One more unusual activity was the inspection of a snake, which was held by Clarence Pearce. "Does he really have tonsils?" asked LaRue Whitlock, as she peered down the six inch monsters throat. Regina Clary observed from a safe distance.

Of all those at the outing, Kathy Maddox and Jim Walton seem to be the only ones who did not get soaked. Outings like this one are not easily forgotten.

Delta Chis Hike Around Blanchard

On Monday, April 28, amid the rain and sun and snakes and poison ivy at Blanchard Springs, could be found the Delta Chi's and their outing dates, having a wonderful time. After exploring the old mill and the caves and the spring, and after hiking over practically every square foot of the park, the outdoorsmen satisfied their appetites with barbecued chicken and trimmings. The last course of the day was a strenuous and often comical softball game.

The hikers were: Nancy White, Mike White; Doris Jones, Odis Clayton; Jeanette Read, Kelso Waters; Kaye Prysock, Bob Crosby; Ardythe Johnson, Bill Dawson; Peggy King, R. B. Barton; Dee Smith, Frank Herren; Augustine Hendrix, Chuck Lucas; Yvonne Robinson, George Gurganus; Lynn Prysock, Eddie Gurgley; Jenny King, John Graham; Vivian and Ed Mosby; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davis; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Spaulding and family.

Spaulding to Speak At Russian Mission Club

Professor Irene Jhonson of the Social Science department told the Russian Mission Club that the Russian people were "barbarous, rude, cruel" because of an absence of the Renaissance, Reformation and Humanism in the history of Czarist Russia. Miss Johnson spoke to the Club and its guests on "Understand the Russian Mind through its Czarist History" on May 1st.

Russia has lagged behind Europe in developing, she explained. The institutions of Europe, such as a strong national assembly and a middle class, are not found in Russia during the period of the Czars. Miss Johnson also described the lives of outstanding Czars.

Tonight the lecture series on Russian history continues. Professor Joe Spaulding will discuss "Understanding the Russian Mind through its Communist History" at 9 o'clock in the American Studies Auditorium. Club sponsor Gene Rainey stated that "faculty and students, especially those majoring in the social sciences, are invited."

Beta Tau Gamma Goes to Tahkodah

The annual social club outing was held this year at Camp Tahkodah, April 21, on a day just right for hiking, boating, tennis, and swimming. Taking time out from activities, the group feasted on barbequed chicken, baked beans, deviled eggs, and the usual picnic trimmings with ice cream and cookies for dessert. The J. C. Moore's were invited to accompany the club sponsor, Irene Johnson.

The group included: Dot Anderson, Jim Bevins; Joan Berry, Al Lynds; Carolyn Beene, Bobby Mitchell; Patsy Beene; Heywood Loyd; Marilyn Caudle, Duane McCampbell; Myra Dasher, Homer Anderson; Vera Hines, Bill Stillbler; Neva Hoofnagle, Don Humphrey.

On Monday, April 28, the Beta Tau club members elected new officers for the fall semester. The following will fill the positions: Vera Hines, pres.; Carolyn Beene, vice-pres.; Kathy O'Conner, sec.; Myra Dasher, treas.; Fay Conley,

Moore's Are Host To Mission Class

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore were hosts to the European Mission class April 29 at 8 p.m. Refreshments of German cake and drinks were served. Movies of Europe were shown, and afterwards, Mrs. Moore and Miss Irene Johnson presented a panel discussion on "European Marketing."

England can be used to illustrate the missionary needs of Europe. England has always played a vital role in the politics and economy of the world, but there are only three full-time preachers of the gospel there. With 44,000,000 people to convert, can three preachers succeed? But this is only one example of the thirty-two countries of Europe that are in need of the gospel. Only if each Christian helps carry out the great commission can the gospel of Christ penetrate all nations of the earth.

reporter; Joan Berry, historian; Irene Keckley, sergeant-at-arms.

The group unanimously agreed to ask Irene Johnson to remain club sponsor for the 1958-59 school year. Miss Johnson accepted.

The Beta Tau's wish to acknowledge and express thanks to Irene Johnson for her part as sponsor and her interest towards the club as an organization of Christian young women.

WHC Braves Wilds At Blanchard Springs

The W.H.C.'s and their dates enjoyed a wonderful and beautiful sun shining day at Blanchard Springs on April 21.

Everyone took time out to eat the barbequed chicken, potato salad, and slaw that was served. Ice cream was served as dessert.

AEX Members Journey To Petit Jean Park

The Alpha Epsilon Chi members and their dates enjoyed themselves at the club's annual outing at Petit Jean State Park, April 28. Boating, hiking, and eating comprised most of the entertaining activities of the day.

Attending were: Charles Mays, Donna Hockett; Jerry Seal, Sue Lauer; Walt Evans, La Norma Mitchell; Tally Murphy, Jan McReynolds; Heywood Loyd, Pansy Beene; A. J. Arnold, Lenora Cross; Ed Crookshank, Linda Parks; John Milton, Phoebe Welch; Homer Anderson, Myra Dasher; Ken Turner, Donna Peugh; Howard Claude; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Earnhart, Diane and Jeff; and Dr. and Mrs. James Hedrick, Ann, Mike and Diana.

welcome guests, Dr. and Mrs. Joe Spaulding and daughter, made our outing complete.

One Man's Opinion

By DON RUSK

The weather forecast for Arkansas and vicinity is cloudy and overcast with heavy humidity and frequent downpours, cloud bursts, and occasional bits of sunshine through today, tomorrow, and the succeeding days which follow.

Yes, you have guessed it, since the weather has prohibited any athletic contests during the past few days to speak of, the Bison sports staff has reverted to the suspenseful task of predicting the weather in order to stay in business.

Actually all organized sports, both intramural and intercollegiate, have been at a half for almost two weeks. The ping pong, badminton, and shuffleboard enthusiasts haven't been hampered too much, but there hasn't been an intercollegiate baseball game in ages with about six being rained out. Only a couple of intramural games have been squeezed in on threatening days, and the last track meet has been rained out.

The next event of importance, which the Harding sports fans can look forward to, is the annual track and field day festivities when the whole school lets out to watch the various clubs compete for the day's honors.

This consists of a bright and shiny trophy.

Harding will be permitted to watch its intercollegiate stars compete among themselves on the school's "crack" track behind Rhodes Memorial Fieldhouse. One of these individuals has just about walked away with all honors for the past three years, and was undefeated on the cinders this year in intercollegiate competition. In the mile run, a long and grueling race, Roger Brown in reality wasn't pushed all season long which might have been the reason why he did not attain his goal of a 4:30 minute mile.

Roger, a junior from Estancia, N.M., does not feel that he was in shape as well as he has been for track and field day in the past, however his time on the mile has been as low as 4:37.9, which is likely low enough that no one else around here will approach it.

Roger says, "I would to have run the half-mile and the quarter this year, but they came so close to the mile that I couldn't reoperate in time." Actually Roger's best race is the half-mile which he has run as low as 2:02 in past track appearances.

With work he probably could eventually bring it under two minutes. Roger's competition will be much more severe, this year admittedly so by himself.

On the quarter, which in the past he has won relatively easily

Faculty Scalps Braves, 6-0 In League Play

Baseball amazingly found its way into the spotlight between deluges long enough for the Cecil Beck led Faculty to soundly spank the Braves 6-0 in major league action Tuesday afternoon.

Beck scattered four hits, struck out seven, and walked no one with the strong support of short-stop Hugh Groover and flashy center fielder Marsh Goodson. Goodson saved one extra base hit by streaking from left field into deep right center to haul in Noel Lemons' long drive in the second inning.

The Faculty scored the only run they needed in the first inning when Goodson was safe on an error by third baseman Bill Brady, brazenly stole second, advanced to third base on Beck's fly ball, and streaked across home plate on a wild pitch by John Hazeup.

Two more Faculty runs crossed the plate on a lead off single by Tom Loney, a run scoring triple by Eddie Baggett, and a long fly by Godson.

The Professors added the insulting final runs in the sixth inning which would have produced more runs save for foolish base running of Herb Dean and Bob Tipton.

Harry Olree climaxed the three run inning by driving in two with times on the low fifties, his competition will be composed of swift Bubba Davis, Ed Hightower, Harold Tandy, and Jim Borden. Fred Massey, who is in much better shape than last year should present a very formidable foe for the dauntless Brown in the 220. On the mile he will be almost unopposed.

When asked about the chances of next year's track squad, Roger hesitated to comment as it was too far away to tell. Let us make a prediction as of now on Roger in the coming school classic. Roger Brown, who is always a skeptic about his chances of winning, will score more than his share of the points as he runs bearing the colors of the Frater Soladis social club. His prediction of the outcome heavily favors the Sub-T's, who are loaded with sprint and field talent. At any rate it should hold some interesting races and some close decisions.

Academy News

As the year draws nearer to a close, things are in a busy hum at the Academy. Parties, outings, banquets, exams are a few of the activities keeping everyone on his toes.

Valedictorian and salutatorian of Harding Academy for the year 1957-58 were revealed April 3. Dale Essary and Bettye Ritchie were the surprised students as Mr. Berryhill, principal, announced the honors. Each honor carries with it a scholarship.

"I Dare You" was the title of a book awarded to two high school students of every school participating in the program by the Danforth Association. This year the Academy participated in this program. The names of the recipients of this book were entered in the national "I Dare You" list. Bettye Ritchie and Don Berryhill were elected to receive this award on the basis of leadership, dependability, scholarship, and citizenship. Congratulations!

Plans for freshman and sophomore outings are being made by the energetic classmen. Hayrides and baseball will highlight the activities. The outings were to take place on Monday, May 5, but because of the flooded roads they have been postponed.

runs with a double.

Between these outbursts, Hazlip had an exceptional inning in the fourth when he struck out the side.

Loney had the best day at bat, two for three, and scored two runs. Grady also went two for three and Beck was two for four.

Beck was the winning pitcher and Hazlip the loser.

Beck has now won one and lost one game: Hazlip is 2-2.

MAY 8, 1958

THE HARDING BISON, Searcy, Ark. ★ 5

Long-playing records, fritos, scattered pillows and blankets, and the crunching of Pat Neal eating ice typified the S.T.A.R. slumber party held at Andee King's apartment Sunday night. Screams were heard from Nina Harvey and Andee as they emerged from their short-sheeted bed sprinkled with bobby pins. Six sleepy-eyed but happy girls finally slumbered (after this was written.)

Our own Billy Mac Smith proudly returned from the state track meet last week and displayed a first place winning. He won the honor in the discus throw. Bill Mack is the second representative from the Academy ever to win a first place title. Congratulations to you, too, Billy Mac.

Activities for the chorus are also nearing a close. A college chapel program on May 6 was to be the last formal program for the entire chorus. The lower classmen plan to sing for the commencement exercises of the seniors on May 18. Mr. Baggett and the quartet made a trip to Little Rock for a TV appearance over KARK-TV last Monday.

The Beta Club list for this six

Shriver Outmaneuvers Odom In First Handball Tourney

Several mildly interested spectators and a few early comers to the May Fete witnessed one of the better handball games of Harding's first intramural tournament in this sport, Thursday afternoon. Glynn Shriver outsmashed Ralph Odom two games to one.

The first game demonstrated hand ball at its best with both Shriver and Odom playing top-notch ball. Shriver's steady pace and Odom's spurts of aggressive play featured hard low shots, close wall shots, and beautiful shallow cross court shots. The lead changed hands several times with no more than four points margin at any time. Odom managed to finish on top, 21-19.

The second game was not as close as Odom seemed to lose control of his shots and Shriver's heads-up play gave him several points. The game went to Shriver by an impressive score of 21-9.

Odom showed signs of poor condition and frustration (distracting noises from the general May Fete crowd and spectators) which proved fatal to the third game also. Shriver on the other hand, showed general calmness and consistent play.

The third game also went to Shriver 21-10.

With a little luck, Shriver may prove to be Harding's first handball champion and handball may be one of the better sports.

Intramural director Cecil Beck, who would serve everyone's inclination for exercise, now has introduced almost every sport to the campus except la crosse, polo, and soccer. Harding's vast intramural empire now includes: football, basketball, baseball, softball, swimming, table tennis, the trampoline, tennis, horseshoes, track, archery, golf, badminton, volleyball, and handball in addition to the various gymnastics and skills.

The failure of anyone to get enough exercise is purely an accident.

It is rumored that water polo will be the next sport introduced.

Jim Brown Wins Baseball Quiz

Jim Brown

Gerald Casey and the Freshman class had to pay up on their offer of a hamburger and milk shake for the winner of the baseball quiz in last week's Freshman edition of the Bison. It took a sophomore, Jim Brown, to supply the superior baseball knowledge.

Actually, Brown and Sophomore Jimmy Adkins tied with 9 3/4 of a possible ten correct answers but the Arkansas State transfer beat Adkins to the answer box. The rules stated that in case of a tie the "fustest with the mostest" would be the winner.

Brown committed his "boo-boo" on the ninth question when he stated that the Boston Red Sox held spring training at Orlando, Fla. What a blow to the Sarasota Chamber of Commerce.

Gerald Griffith ran third with nine points and got nothing for

Answer These And Win Burger

The baseball quiz in last week's Bison drew so much interest that we have decided to do it again with the same rules applying.

All entries must be in by 8 a.m. Saturday morning and the winner gets a hamburger and milk shake in addition to publicity.

Ivy League

Is it ever Ivy! Why, Coke is the most correct beverage you can possibly order on campus. Just look around you. What are the college social leaders going for? Coca-Cola! So take a leaf out of their Ivy League book and do the same! Enjoy the good taste of Coke!
